The Free To Be Me Curriculum

The Free To Be Me Girls Curriculum is a holistic comprehensive program that caters to youth in grades 4-12.

The curriculum focuses on the physical, emotional, intellectual and psychological well-being of individuals. The curriculum includes twelve units with thirty-six lesson plans. Each lesson plan has technology integration, interesting video suggestions, step-by-step procedures, journal writing activities, Book Club discussion questions, and corresponding activity pages.

Additionally, twelve community service projects with a choice of three distinctive activities are incorporated in the program.

Objectives consist of all levels of Bloom's Taxonomy from Knowledge to Evaluation. Lessons are aligned with most school districts' objectives for reading and writing. This curriculum can be used for schools, community centers, religious organizations and all mentoring programs that would love guided lessons and activities for their participants.
